Biographical Files

(updated July 2018)

Biographical Files are organized by surname. Material on many different individuals with the same surname may appear in the file. The information may be biographical (narrative information concerning one person, e.g. the photographer Seneca Ray Stoddard) or genealogical (typically charts showing family relationships, ancestry, or descendants). The Biographical Files, while valuable, are not comprehensive. Many families of the greater Glens Falls area are not included.

What kinds of information can be found in these files? They consist mostly of photocopies of newspaper clippings, many of them obituaries. Sometimes articles, pamphlets, and even possibly manuscripts can be found there. Occasionally researchers who have used collections at the Folklife Center donate their family information to be included in the Biographical Files.
